1. INTRODUCTION

Royal Decree-Law 13/2010, of December 3, has introduced an important modernization process, dividing the airport and air navigation management functions that in Spain had been performed by the Entidad Pública Empresarial Aena, with the objective of improving the efficiency and effectiveness of the Spanish airport system.

Aena Aeropuertos is created within this modernization process and it shall be responsible for the management of the airports which until now had been managed by Entidad Pública Empresarial Aena.

The Council of Ministers on June 3, 2011 approved an agreement which authorizes the asset transfer from Aena to Aena Aeropuertos and a rise in the capital stock of the new company. These measures are necessary for Aena Aeropuertos to start functioning effectively, from June 8, 2011.

Aena Aeropuertos shall carry out all the duties and obligations developed by Entidad Pública Empresarial Aena until June 7, 2011 as regards management and operation of airport services, and any others that national or international law gives to the airport operator, in relation to the network integrated by airports and heliports managed by Aena.

From July 5, 2014, Aena Aeropuertos S.A changes its name into Aena SME, S.A. The airports and heliports that it manages are the following:

Adolfo Suarez Madrid-Barajas and Josep Tarradellas Barcelona-El Prat.

Alicante Elche, Gran Canaria, Tenerife Sur, Málaga-Costa del Sol and Palma de Mallorca.

EXEMPTION AND INCENTIVES

6. INCENTIVES

Incentive for operations on certain days of the week in the Canary Airports

There is a right to a subsidy of 50% of the amount of landing and passengers charges, for flights in airports in the Canary Islands - with the exception of inter island flights- the days of the week that are reflected in the following table, provided that the beneficiary of the subsidy maintains the number of operations already scheduled for the remaining days of the week, at the deadline set by the industry for the return of slots of the winter season (August 31) and summer (January 31) accordingly.

| Airport | Day of the week |
|----------------|------------------------|
| Fuerteventura | Tuesday and Friday |
| Gran Canaria | Tuesday |
| La Palma | All days |
| Lanzarote | Wednesday |
| Tenerife Norte | Saturday |
| Tenerife Sur | Thursday |

The enjoyment of this subsidy shall exclude the application of bonus for landing and passenger charges under Law 21/2003, Sections 75.7 and 78.3.

The subsidy must be requested during the month of January 2021, and will be met by Aena SME, S.A. offsetting the amount to any amounts owed by the beneficiaries and, if it cannot be possible in whole or in part, by payment in cash before May 31, 2021.

Commercial incentive for 2020 Summer season.

There will be an incentive per season, as defined in Law 21/2003, to promote the start of routes to new destinations at both, short and medium haul, and long haul.

Air carriers operating in Spanish airports managed by Aena SME, S.A. are entitled to get an incentive for their contribution to the growth of passengers on routes operated from Aena airports with less than 3 million passengers annually.

Furthermore, air carriers will be entitled to get an incentive for their contribution to the growth of passengers on long-haul routes operated from Aena airports.

The incentives of the above paragraphs will be calculated as an amount equivalent to 75% of the average passenger charge for the air carrier on the route per season, and will be applied to the additional passengers on the route per season compared to the previous equivalent one. The incentive will be proportional to the contribution of each air carrier to the growth generated in the route. Additionally, if, in the following equivalent season, the air carrier at least maintains the number of departing passengers on that route, an additional 25% discount will be applied.

In all the above situations, the number of passengers considered for the incentive of each air carrier will have the cap on the number of passengers that the airline has grown at the airport. In this case their distribution by route will be proportional to the contribution of the air carrier to the growth of each route.

In addition, for each air carrier, the number of passengers considered at the network level will not be higher than its growth in Spanish airports managed by Aena SME, S.A. In this case, their distribution by route will be proportional to the passengers referred to in the previous paragraph.

Finally, for routes with origin at airports where a mechanism for reducing the seasonal variation is applied, as it is stated in law 21/2003, there is also an incentive for the contribution to the growth of passengers on routes operated in the previous equivalent off-peak season.

The incentive of the previous paragraph will be equivalent to 5% of the average amount of the passenger charge of the airline on the route and will apply exclusively to the number of additional departing passengers of the route during the off-peak season, compared to the previous off-peak season. The incentive will be proportional to the contribution to the growth generated in that route.

In addition, if in the following off-peak season the airline at least maintains the number of departing passengers on that route, an additional 5% of the amount of the passenger charge of the airline will be paid.

In the previous case, for each airline, the number of passengers considered for the incentive will not be higher than the growth of the company at the airport and the distribution by route of the number of passengers will be proportional to the contribution of the airline to the growth of each route.

For the Canary Island airports, the incentive will be applied to the amount of passenger charge once applied subsidies for operations on certain days of the week in the Canary Airports, regulated by Law 2/2012.

The growth of each airline cannot be due to the mere transfer of passengers between companies within the same group, or agreements between airlines to share their program or align strategies in order to have access to the incentive. For these purposes, Aena will assess whether the increase in passengers of an airline is because some of the above reasons, and has the power to nullify the incentive if it were so

For the purpose of this incentive, a route is defined as the set of operations of commercial air transport of passengers, departing from an airport of Aena SME, S.A. and destination another airport. It will be considered as the same route to the same destination, the one that even if it is operated to different airports, these are part of the same catchment area

For the purpose of this incentive it is considered that a route to a destination has not been operated in the previous equivalent season if it did not exceed 1.500 in the summer season. In this sense, to be considered a route operated in a season, the route to a certain destination must exceed 1.500 departing passengers.

For the purpose of the corresponding incentive, a route will be considered as long-haul when the destination is outside the EEA and the orthodrome distance to it is more than 4.000 km.

The incentives must be requested during the following month to that in which the season that generates the right to the incentive, finishes. It will be paid by Aena by compensating its amount with any other amounts owed by the beneficiaries and, if this is not possible, in whole or in part, by payments in cash before the end of the month of June of the following year to that of the beginning of the seasons that generated the right to the incentive.

To receive the incentive, the air carrier must be up to date with payments to Aena SME, S.A.

Extraordinary Incentive for the Recovery of Operations for the months of July to October 2020

Air carriers may request the application of incentives explained under this heading, applicable in the to the period between July 1 and October 31, 2020.

The monthly operations, performed from 1st of July 2020 to 31st of October 2020 at Aena's network airports and at the international airport of the Region of Murcia, which are included in the ranges of the operational recovery rate described below with regards to the operations performed by the airline in the equivalent month of the previous year, will benefit from an incentive in the landing charge.

The following reference levels are established for the calculation of the incentive:

- a. Operations over the higher rate (Stretch).
- b. Operations between the lower rate (Base) and the higher rate (Stretch).

| 2020 | Lower reference rate BASE | Higher reference rate STRETCH |
|-------------|--------------------------------------|--|
| July | 25% | 35% |
| August | 30% | 40% |
| September | 40% | 50% |
| October | 50% | 60% |

The total volume of the incentive will be an amount equivalent to the sum of the additional operations found in reference level "a" and those found in reference level "b" multiplied by 100% and 75%, respectively, of the average monthly landing fee of each carrier liable to receive the incentive.

For the purposes of the calculation of this incentive, the average monthly landing charge will be determined by the sum of the amount invoiced for the landing charge during the month incentivised by Aena, divided by the total number of monthly landing flights, if they are classified among the type of flights referenced below.

Thus, the operations recovery percentage for each airline, compared to the equivalent month of the previous year, in each of the months described in the table, may be:

- a) Less than or equal to the lower reference volume (Base). In this case, no operation will be taken into account for the purposes of calculating this incentive.
- b) Greater than the lower reference volume (Base) and less than or equal to the higher reference volume (Stretch). Additional operations to the lower recovery rate (Base) will benefit from a 75 per cent refund of their average monthly landing rate.
- c) Greater than the higher reference volume (Stretch). Any operation additional to the higher recovery rate (Stretch) will benefit from a 100% refund of their average monthly landing rate.

Conditions to be met by air carriers in order to qualify for this incentive:

- I. Operate 8 or more commercial passenger landing operations per month. For the purposes of this calculation, the service types considered are J - Scheduled Passenger Flight, G - Scheduled Additional Passenger Flight, C - Passenger Charter Flight, S – Air shuttle, B - Additional Air shuttle.
- II. Be up to date with all payments with Aena S.M.E., S.A.
- III. Request the incentive before March 2021. If the request is made after October 2020, the April 2021 communication will break down the operations incentivised for the 4 months of the incentive (July, August, September and October 2020) and its amount.
- IV. Expressly waive the right to the growth and route to a new destination incentive when requesting this incentive.

The incentivised operations for the months July, August, September and October 2020 will be communicated and paid during the month of November 2020, and breakdown of the monthly amounts shall be made.

If any air carrier has not operated during any of the months of the previous year (July 2019 to October 2019), and now equals or exceeds the threshold of 8 monthly commercial landing operations, it will benefit of a 75% of the average landing charge for all the monthly operations of that airline.

The corresponding amount resulting from the application of this incentive shall not be paid in cash. Aena, S.M.E., S.A. shall compensate this corresponding amount with any sums due by the beneficiaries.

The carrier shall lose the option to benefit from the incentive if it had been the recipient of transfer of operations between companies of the same group, or agreements with other companies to share their program or align strategies that can facilitate their access to the incentive or have an effect on the amount of the incentive. To this end, Aena S.M.E., S.A. reserves its right to review all the documentation, as well as the data provided by each company that is a candidate for the incentive, in such a way that, if such verification results that the request or any information or documentation is provided with errors, misleading information, omissions or any type of inaccuracy, or the alignment of strategies described above, the incentive shall be refused.

Extraordinary Operating Recovery Incentive applied during the Winter 2020 Season

From the 1st of November 2020 to 31st of March 2021, airlines will receive a refund on their average landing charge equivalent to their percentage of recovery of operations at Aena S.M.E., S.A 's network airports and Murcia Regional airport in relation to the monthly operations achieved by the airline during the equivalent month of the previous Winter Season, provided that this rate of recovery is equal to or greater than 20%¹.

The incentive is calculated at an amount equivalent to the number of monthly commercial arrival operations of each airline in the corresponding month of Winter 2020 season, multiplied by the average monthly landing charge of each eligible company, and by the percentage of the recovery rate of operations that company has had with respect to the equivalent month of the Winter 2019 season.

The maximum refund of the average monthly landing charge that an airline can obtain is 100%.

For the purposes of calculating this incentive, the average monthly landing charge is considered to be the sum of the amount invoiced for the landing charge during the relevant month, divided by the total monthly arrival flights operated in service types included within those mentioned below.

For the purpose of calculating this incentive, the monthly recovery percentage is considered to be the number of monthly arrival flights operated in the month of Winter 2020 season, divided by the total of the monthly arrival flights operated in the equivalent month of the Winter 2019 season, with service type included among those mentioned below. The recovery percentage shall be rounded to the nearest integer in order to make the refund calculations.

Conditions to be met by airlines in order to qualify for the incentive:

- I. Operate or exceed 8 commercial passenger arrival operations per month. For the purposes of this calculation, the service types considered are J - Scheduled Passenger Flight, G - Scheduled Additional Passenger Flight, C - Passenger Charter Flight, S - Airlift, B - Additional Airlift.
- II. Be up to date with all payments with Aena S.M.E., S.A.
- III. Request the incentive once before March 2021. This will not be necessary if the airline has already applied for the Extraordinary Incentive to stimulate traffic recovery for Summer 2020 and Winter 2020. The amount of the discount and a list of operations where the discount is applicable on the 5 months that the incentive lasts shall be included in the April 2021 communication with the airline.

The refund for the months of the Winter season (November and December 2020 and January, February and March 2021) shall be communicated and applied in April 2021.

If an airline did not operate during any month of the previous year (from November 2019 to February 2020), and it now operates or exceeds the threshold of 8 monthly commercial arrivals, it shall benefit of a 100% refund of the average landing charge to all monthly operations of that airline.

This incentive shall not be cumulated with any other commercial incentives in force at the time of its application.

¹ For calculation purposes on the month of March 2021, February 2020 shall be considered as the reference month, applying its average daily operation and multiplying it by 31 days.

The corresponding amount resulting from the application of this incentive shall not be paid in cash. Aena, S.M.E., S.A. shall compensate the corresponding amount with any sums due by the beneficiaries.

Aena, S.M.E., S.A. shall not proceed to a refund of the average monthly landing charge if, in order to benefit from this incentive or to have an effect on its amount, the airline would have been the recipient of an assignment or transfer of operations between itself and companies in the same group or with other companies with which it could share its flying program or align strategies. In any case, if the situations described above arise as a result of purely operational aspects of the activity of airlines in the same group or which could share their flying programme, the corresponding amount to the incentive could be reduced in proportion to the effect of the transfer of operations carried out.

In the event of mergers, acquisitions or any other structural changes that may affect this incentive, the predecessor and successor airlines shall be treated as a single airline.

Aena S.M.E., S.A. reserves the right to refuse applying the incentive if during the revision of data and documents provided by airlines that have applied to it, it results that the application, any information or documentation provided is affected by errors, misleading information, omissions or any type of inaccuracy.

Exemptions

No aeronautical charges shall be satisfied, referred to in this guide, by the operations performed by the Spanish state aircrafts, aircraft serving for autonomous communities and other local entities, provided that they perform non commercial public services, and foreign State aircrafts, in the case that the Nations to which they belong have similar exemption for Spanish state aircrafts.
