7. Environmental Sustainability

In line with its Environmental Policy, Aena carries out a large number of actions and measures to compatibilize its activities with the environment, within a framework of safety, quality and efficiency.

For more information about environmental issues in Aena please click here

For Aena is also an strategic issue the reduction of gas emissions (CO2) and noise levels , as well as the welfare and quality of life of residents in the airport surroundings. The aim is to get the proper balance between the conservation of the natural environment of the airport and its activities and services.

For more information please click here and see Aerodrome Data document, sections 20 - 21 (noise information) and section 23 (wildlife risk management information)

8. Quality at airports

To continually improve the quality of services rendered, Aena has implemented Quality Management Systems at its airports and guarantees the compliance of the requirements established in the ISO 9001 International Standards.

On a yearly basis, Aena also makes a quick questionnaire to airlines operating at each airport, that includes general questions about the different areas of the airport activity, with the purpose of measure the levels of quality perceived by airlines, evaluating the results and their evolution and acting to improve the quality of service offered.

Aena monitors the quality standards required by DORA to ensure that the airport services provided to passengers comply with them.
